

The Police sub station was built at the entrance to Birchington railway station in the early 1960s. It was built to replace the blue Police Box that had stood in the Square since the late 1930s. It was closed in the later 1960s and stood empty till the Masonic Lodge bought it.